Steel Production Doubled During First Half Year

It has been rather an interesting half year that the steel trade is now closing, says the American Metal Market. The rate of production has approximately doubled, from January 1 to June 30. In round figures, production of steel ingots in gross tons has been as follows:
First half 1931.....10,000,000
Second half 1931.....9,000,000
First half 1932.....18,000,000
As production declined rapidly in the first half of last year, increased somewhat in the second half of the year and increased sharply in the half year now ending, the totals by half years although showing a wide swing do not bring out the great change that has occurred. To get the extreme limit, one should observe that in July, 1931, the rate of production was about 11,000,000 tons a year while at the present time the rate is probably all of 29,000,000 tons and may be close to 40,000,000 tons. In less than a twelvemonth therefore the rate has been multiplied by three and one-half the increase being more than 250 per cent.

Between production of steel and the actual ultimate consumption stand stocks, not only stocks of steel in the hands of distributors and manufacturing consumers but also stocks of manufactured goods in the hands of the original producers or in the hands of distributors. Everyone was agreed that there was very heavy liquidation of all sorts of stocks in the year 1931. Production of steel ingots was nearly 11,000,000 tons in 1930 while 1931 saw a production of only about 10,000,000 tons. No one believed that actual consumption decreased in such ratio. A rough guess was that the actual consumption of 1931 was represented by something like 23,000,000 tons of ingots.

Stocks at the end of the year were far below even a conservatively low normal, there having been a very thorough liquidation or cleaning up. For 2,000,000 tons of ingots to be made in the half year now closing above the actual consumption, would not represent a full replenishment, but would still leave consumers with less than ordinary working stocks. If one deducts this guess from the 16,000,000 tons produced in the half year he has 14,000,000 tons, or at the rate of 28,000,000 tons a year. In both 1931 and 1932, the two greatest tonnage years before the war, production was about 30,250,000 tons. The difference between that and the 28,000,000 is roughly the amount by which exports of steel and steel manufactures have decreased.

This proves nothing but the debatable nature of the question whether or not we have lately been making extra steel against fear of buyers that the coal strike would produce a shortage. It would be difficult to prove that we have or that we have not, but the present strength of the export market will continue through the second half of the year or that it will not.

GAINS WEIGHT AND HAS NEVER FELT STRONGER

Miss Katherine Planagan Declares Tanlac Promptly Overcame Her Persistent Stomach Trouble and Restored Her Health Completely.

"Tanalac has restored my health completely and I never felt stronger," said Miss Katherine Planagan, 2823 Webster St., Philadelphia, Pa. "For nearly a year I simply suffered tortures from nervous indigestion. My appetite was poor and what little I did eat seemed like a weight of lead in my stomach and caused intense pains around my heart and awful smothering sensations. I got so little sound sleep at night I never felt rested in the morning. I had splitting headaches and was so weak and nervous it was all I could do to get through the day. "I started improving on my first bottle of Tanlac and now I enjoy every meal, my stomach never worries me and I have gained several pounds in weight. I have the best reasons for praising Tanlac. It is just grand."

Tanalac is sold by all good druggists.—Advertisement.

FRIDAY EVENING, JULY 7, 1932.

FOR A GREATER PENN. STATE.

Every citizen of Pennsylvania, even if not an alumnus or former under-graduate student of Pennsylvania State College, should have such a lively interest in the campaign soon to be put on for the purpose of obtaining recognition as the State University, and to raise a fund of $2,000,000 to be applied to the erection of student health and welfare buildings, that they will do every needful thing to insure the complete success of the undertaking.

Participation in this highly praiseworthy effort should be general throughout the state, and for reasons that make a strong appeal to the state pride and loyalty of every Pennsylvanian who is a friend and well wisher of the youth of the Imperial Commonwealth.

Pennsylvania State College occupies the unique and very important position of being the only state institution devoted to higher education. At the same time it suffers the serious and unfortunate handicap of having been so inadequately supported by the state that it cannot provide facilities for the accommodation and instruction of all the ambitious young men and women who apply for admission from year to year. Its present position in this respect is analogous to that of a public school in a district where the school population has outgrown the capacity of the school building that only part of the children can be accommodated.

Knowledge of this condition at Penn State ought to create on the part of all residents of the state just as eager a desire to remove the reproach upon the commonwealth, as knowledge of a similar condition in a local school district would bestir school patrons to have it remedied by the construction of larger school buildings.

By acceptance of the conditions and provisions of the Morrill Act, under which Congress authorized the federal government to extend aid to a single institution in each state which provided instruction in agriculture, mechanical arts and kindred subjects intended to fit the youth for larger usefulness in the industries, Pennsylvania assumed the obligation to maintain and equip Penn State College for these purposes. This pact has been kept only in part, and other states having smaller populations and material resources and wealth have been getting aside millions for the development and growth of their state universities, commensurate with the increase in the demand from their youth for higher education. Pennsylvania, second in wealth in the whole union, has been giving only thousands.

The result of this failure to measure up to the state's opportunities to assume the leadership in education to which it by every right should attain, has been that Penn State College has been obliged to scrimp along year after year; to lose capable and gifted instructors because of inability to pay salaries equivalent to those of other institutions; to crowd a constantly increasing number of students into cramped class room and laboratory spaces; and to annually refuse matriculation to hundreds of applicants duly qualified for admission.

To remedy these conditions, if the college is to preserve and enlarge its functions and fulfill its mission as the state's institution of higher education, it is imperative that certain things be done, and it is the duty of Pennsylvanians and women to see that they are done. Two of these things are the goal sought to be achieved by the forth-coming campaign in the conduct of which the aid of the people of the state, without regard to their previous associations with Penn State, is most earnestly desired. In fact, it is absolutely necessary to success.

First, it is designed to have the people become so fully informed as to objects, purposes and mission of Penn State, and the scope of the plans and aims of President Thomas and the trustees with respect to an enlarged institution, and the possibilities and opportunities for service it can render to all the people of the state, that there will develop a strong public sentiment favoring the erection of the college into the Penn State University.

Second, it is planned to raise by popular subscription a fund of $2,000,000 which is to be used in erecting a group of buildings to be utilized exclusively for the promotion of the health and welfare of the thouands of students now denied these essential physical components of a modern and up-to-date university.

It is no part of the present plan to release the state from its obligations to provide for the maintenance of the college and additions to its facilities and laboratory buildings and equipment. Appropriations for these purposes will be requested of the next General Assembly as usual and in such amounts as the growing requirements demand.

The campaign contemplates making available funds which are to be used for objects not heretofore recognized by the General Assembly as within its province to finance. Making no charge for tuition to students residing in the state the college has been largely without income other than that deriving from appropriations by the federal and state governments.

Hence has been unable to equip the plant with the health and welfare buildings which have been one of the college's most urgent needs for years past. Having no endowment, such as has been created at older, larger and privately incorporated institutions by the bequests or gifts of wealthy alumni or friends, appeal is to be made to the alumni and former students of Penn State and to Pennsylvanians generally, who have a just pride in seeing the state sustain the same rank and importance in the higher education of its future citizens that it has acquired in agriculture, manufacturing, mining, transportation, commerce and other lines which have made the state great and famed as the home of a progressive, public-spirited and a forward-looking people.

"The unanimity and generosity with which this appeal is answered will be an earnest of the desire of loyal Pennsylvanians to help remove the reproach the state suffers from having failed to keep step with or in advance of other states in promoting the cause of higher education. It will also be proof of our willingness to render unselfish service, the fruits of which will be a rich heritage to the youth of our own and all succeeding generations.

The local student who are on strike having shown their desire to avoid every form of disorder, police officers should be just as discreet in their attitude and conduct. Unsubstantiated rumors have never been disposed to become law-breakers and can be depended upon to do their part in preserving peace and good order during the prevalence of the present unfortunate situation.

Payette county alumnus of Penn State College having forged to the front it is the most natural thing in the world for them to get behind the movement to advance this institution to the front rank.

A child of a former South Conneltsville woman having won a prize in a beauty contest, how would the judges ever be able to reach a decision if the mothers from this section were the contestants?

Hope for Support of Fans Still Held Out; Turners Scheduled for Tomorrow

Independents on Last Legs
Unless Assistance Is Extended Soon.

BEST GAMES ARE COMING

By James M. Driscoll
Sporting Editor.

Baseball fans have not yet begun to answer the appeal to come to the aid of the Connellsville Independents and keep that team in the field for the remainder of the season. The Connellsville fans have made the name of this community known as a sporting city will not allow the national game to go in the discard because of a few dollars each.

The Independents have been bumping along on the rough edges of hard times since the season opened. The men backing the club have paid out several hundred dollars of their own money. It is only fair that they be helped in shouldering this burden by others who have had great pleasure in witnessing the games at Fayette field each weekend.

Up until the present time the locals have been meeting teams of fair rating. Beginning Saturday some of the best in the State are scheduled including the Turners of Wilkesburg this weekend. Unless the club is kept on its feet here will lose an opportunity to see the best teams in independent circuits.

The men back of the club are not making money out of it. In fact, they have lost considerable. They keep the game going for the pleasure derived from the sport. This is the third year of independent ball here and the team is the strongest yet. To top it all off, the support is the poorest.

The Connellsville fans are willing to do their part by taking the games of those willing to put with a few dollars to aid in making up any deficit the team might incur on a poor day. These games will be given publicity and turned over to the management. It is the only way to solve the baseball question this year. Public subscription has failed already. These volunteering support will be called on only when the club is "in the hole" and at no other time. Send your name to The Courier.

WEST PENN WINS TITLE FIRST HALF OF CITY LEAGUE

The West Penn baseball team won the championship title for the first half of the Connellsville City League when it met the Lennox Club on Morris Field last evening. The railway team shut out the Lennoxites, 8-0, Thorpe being immoveable.

The West Penn got to Barnhart early and scored a brace of tallies in the opening frame. Tight ball was played until the fifth when two more counters came across the West Penn platter and these were followed in the sixth by a trio of runs. The champs added another in the seventh and final inning.

Leaders in Semi-Pro Baseball Will Meet Local Independents

The Connellsville Independents are scheduled to meet the Turners of Wilkesburg here Saturday afternoon. The visitors will give the Connellsville ball-loving public an opportunity to see the best independent baseball team in Western Pennsylvania in action. The Turners have a big string of victories for this season and very few reverses. The club has won consistently over other contenders for independent honors and its reputation goes before it.

In meeting the Turners, the Independents are stacking up against what will probably be the strongest opposition on their schedule outside of the Boston Red Sox. The game should draw the largest crowd of the season.

Firestone
GUM-DIPPED CORDS
~and Their High Mileage Records~

Most Miles per Dollar.

The high mileage records of Firestone Cords continue to emphasize the fact that Firestone methods are different and better. These records, steadily increasing in number and in mileage totals, justify the Firestone contention that there is one best way to build tires.

Among the primary sources of Firestone extra mileage is double gum-dipping—the saturation of the cord plies in a vat of liquid gum—thus coating each cord and virtually eliminating internal heat and friction.

Another is Firestone air bag curing, with its 200 pound pressure, which places every cord accurately and equalizes the tension.

By blending the rubbers of different plantations and types, and by tempering it before mixing, Firestone men add still more mileage.

Many cord tires are good—a few are better—Firestone needs say one is best.

Those who have already experienced Firestone mileage, have stopped shopping and experimenting—they have made these cords standard equipment. Investigate your friends' success with Firestone Cords—and buy your next tire accordingly. Come in and get your share of extra mileage.

Dont's of Interest to Campers and Swimmers

Below is a list of don'ts intended to help campers and swimmers.

Don't forget to swim over the stern of the boat. Never over the side.

Don't forget to float or swim on the back when in danger of doubt.

Don't get excited when seized with cramp but float or swim on the back.

Don't attempt to rescue the victim above the water but pull for shore.

Don't get excited if the body is temporarily submerged. Place the head back and wait for rescue.

Don't attempt long distance swimming unless accompanied by swimmers or boat.

Don't forget when caught in a current to be calm and swim with the current.

Don't struggle when caught in the undertow of a steamboat. Record with it until the next wave is met then crawl on it or swim with it or the following ones.

Don't swim if suffering from heart trouble without consulting a doctor.

Don't attempt swimming for at least one hour after eating.

Don't foolishly rock a boat or canoe or change seats.

Don't fail to recognize the signs of distress as the victim rises and lowering the arms, body disappearing and reappearing.

Don't get excited because excitement of mind is at all times necessary in accurately sizing up the situation.

Don't attempt rescue without first removing shoes and heavy outer clothing because this would hinder progress and fatigue the rescuer.

Don't forget to keep watch of the victim or the spot where last seen as this aids in the rescue.

Don't forget to jump feet first in unknown waters because of the possible danger of diving into unknown objects.

Don't approach the victim with a fast jerky stroke as this is exhausting and energy must be conserved for the rescue.

Don't if possible approach the victim from the front because the drowning person may seize an unfavorable grasp.

Don't attempt rescue without knowledge of the correct back method because it may mean two lives instead of one.

Don't attempt rescue by knocking measures because it may prove fatal to the victim.

Don't loose hold of the victim immediately after the break is effected as the victim may resume the struggle or disappear.

Don't attempt to bring a body to surface by pushing off the bottom if soft and muddy as two lives may be imperiled.

Don't forget to employ the correct carry method because this is necessary to insure the safety of the victim and rescuer.

Don't forget to keep the victim's body in a horizontal position during the carry as this will prevent body drag and aid the rescuer.

Don't carry the victim in such a way as to interfere with breathing or submerge the mouth as this may prove fatal.

Don't forget to summon medical aid at once.

Don't lose time in getting the victim to a point of safety as it is necessary to begin resuscitation as soon as possible as a few minutes may mean the loss of a life.

Don't use the pump motor as it has proved dangerous in the hands of the inexpert need.

At the Theatres

THE SOISSON.

"THE BRAND," said to be the greatest of all Rex Beach thrillers, is being shown today at this theatre and will also be the feature attraction tomorrow.

The story is one of great power and appeal. It is drama from the first scene. It grips and thrills as the four principal characters begin to weave their net of love, hate, passion and rebellion, and does not end until the very last scene, when occurs a climax of such terrific power that the spectator can only wonder how Rex Beach conceived anything so extraordinary.

Magnificent Alaska scenes are shown, with raging blizzards, chasms of ice and frozen rivers. Again Rex Beach does not stop a player, regarding to use the best talent obtainable for a brilliant, perfectly balanced cast.

Much of the pathos in "The Brand," Rex Beach's newest, Goldwyn picture, centres around a little child. She is Mary Jane Irving, and was selected for the important part by the author from among at least fifty applicants. Though but seven years old, little Mary Jane has been seen to good advantage in several high class screen productions. She gives a remarkably impressive performance in "The Brand."

Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of next week Lon Chaney will be seen in "The Traps."

THE PARAMOUNT.

"THE GIRL FROM PORCUPINE," by James Oliver Curwood, is the leading attraction today and tomorrow at this theatre.

There are donkeys of very lovable types in the picture and there is also a little dog, Lassie, who plays a part with such pathos and heart interest that the ranks with the human characters. The dog takes his place at the dinner table in the cabin and acts as a most heart-broken mourner, when one of the poor old desert rats, who has worked his head off for the education of the little girl from Porcupine, dies.

When this part of the picture is reached in the theatre, there will be more wet eyes and many throats well filled with gulps of emotion—in fact, the picture throughout is very pathetic; it is dramatic and sensational but it is also exceedingly touching.

Audiences love to have their tender emotions actuated by what they see on the screen. Curwood knows this and great and ardent artist that he provides plenty of human interest in the drama.

THE ORPHEUM.

"HARRIET AND THE PIPER," the feature picture today and tomorrow, is a First National picture with Anita Stewart in the stellar role.

Miss Stewart, who says she doesn't know exactly how many times she has been married on the screen, was quite delighted to go through two wedding ceremonies for the first time in "Harriet and the Piper," which will be exhibited at this theatre.

The first of these cinema weddings was to Ward Crane, who plays the part of a leader of the gay Bohemian life of Greenwich Village. It was a lawless, free love ceremony, and of course didn't count. The second was to Charles Richman, who plays the part of Richard Carter of a fashionable and eminently respectable family. But even that marriage had an unromantic beginning.

Harriet Field, played by Anita, awakens to a realization of her error just in time and flees from her Greenwich Village "husband." She becomes a governess in the home of Richard Carter, and when his wife is killed in an accident while eloping with another man, she consents to marry Carter to relieve him of the responsibility of his household and the care of his two children with the understanding that she will be left as free as heretofore.

Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of next week Mary Pickford will be seen in "Through the Back Door."

Defies Old Age By Using Howard's Buttermilk Cream To Beautify Her Complexion

Tells Druggists Not to Take Anyone's Money Unless This Delightful New Vanishing Cream Quickly Shows a Decided Improvement.

Buttermilk Cream creates beauty almost like magic. The most wonderful thing about it is that fact that while it turns the dull, most lifeless complexion to radiant beauty and makes red or rough hands as smooth as snow, yet there is not the slightest sign of its use. It actually vanishes from sight and the most heated skin, where will not produce the least shininess or greasiness of the skin. No matter whether you are troubled with a poor complexion, wrinkles, puffiness around the eyes, freckles, crows feet or lines around the mouth, ugly finger nails, or just a simple roughness of the face, hands, or arms caused by wind or sun, you will find that any or all of these troubles will quickly disappear with the use of Howard's Buttermilk Cream. If you cannot obtain locally send in cents (cover or stamp) for generous trial package of both cream and soap. Howard Bros. Co., Buffalo, N. Y.—Advertisement.

Spraying and Disease-Free Seed Aid Production of Spuds

Early in the spring of 1921 special blanks for keeping the cost of producing potatoes were put out in all parts of the State. These blanks were of put with any picked lot of farmers because of their being especially good potato growers but with men who represent as nearly as possible the average potato growers of their community. Records were turned in for summarization from 99 farms in 24 counties so the results are considered fairly representative of average potato growing conditions on farms where potatoes are grown as cash crop rather than just for home consumption.

A brief summary of the work is as follows:
Total number of acres, 619.34.
Yield per acre, 160 bu.
Cost per acre, $101.77.
Cost per bushel, 62c.
Number of acres sprayed four times or more, 384.6.

Average number times sprayed, 5.3.
Yield per acre on sprayed farms, 176 bushel.
Yield per acre on unsprayed farms, 145 bushel.
Increase per acre due to spraying, 31 bushel.
Cost per bushel of increase, 36c.
Cost per bushel on sprayed potatoes, 50c.
Cost per bushel of unsprayed potatoes, 65c.

Cost of spraying one acre once, $1.87.
Cost of spraying one acre for entire season, $11.03.

There are only two ways by which farmers can make more money on their crop of potatoes. One is by increasing the price received per bushel and the other is by cutting down the cost of producing the crop. The first can be eliminated almost at once as being beyond the control of farmers because the price is governed by supply and demand. When there are lots of potatoes in the country the price is lower and when there are few potatoes and good demand the price is up. It is then to the second method, that of reducing the cost of the crop, that we as farmers must direct our efforts. Here is a large extent the means are within the control of the farmer.

There are two methods then of accomplishing this. One is by reducing costs and the other is by increasing yields. Costs may be reduced by using more powerful machinery so that more work is done by the same effort, by improved methods of culture and fertilization and by proper methods of storage, grading, and marketing.

Increased yields can mainly be controlled by the use of disease-free seed and the absolute control of disease by proper methods of spraying. On 284 demonstrations conducted in 57 counties in the State disease-free seed yielded an average increase per acre of 50.9 bushels. On 102 demonstrations conducted in 57 counties efficient spraying yielded an average increase per acre of 74.3 bushels. All of these demonstrations were conducted under the direction of the extension pathologist of Pennsylvania State College and county agents. This makes an average increase per acre due to disease-free seed and good spraying of 125.2 bushels.

The extension pathologist says a machine in its efficient work should carry at least 200 pounds pressure at all times so that the spray will be applied in the form of a mist that will completely envelop the plants and cover every square inch of surface. The only reason that the increase due to spraying in this summary is not greater is that without a doubt many of the sprayers were not efficient and that disease was not controlled because of the plants not being thoroughly covered, they were not sprayed often enough, at the right time, the materials were not made properly or the seed was diseased to start with.

Finally, after a good clean crop of potatoes is grown, in order for the farmer to get the best price for his product it is necessary that the crop be graded and marketed right. Only good quality and a uniform product will bring the best price.

Such a plan will never lead to over production at least in this State where there are many thousands of acres of potatoes shipped in from other states.

Gas Production 1920 Greatest in History

Although the gas-making industry had great difficulty in obtaining adequate supplies of good fuel in 1920, the quantity of gas sold was greater than ever before, amounting to nearly 500,000,000 cubic feet, having a value of more than $300,000,000, according to the United States Geological Survey.

The sale of by-products by gas-making companies was also greater in 1920 than in any previous year. Over 100,000,000 gallons of tar, 55,000,000 pounds of ammonium sulphate or its equivalent, and nearly 125,000,000 gallons of light oil and other derivatives were the principal items among these by-products.

The average price of gas in 1920 was much higher than it had been for several years, averaging 16 cents a thousand cubic feet greater for coal gas and water gas and five cents a thousand cubic feet greater for oil gas and coke-oven gas than in 1918.

Sensible, Thinking Women, no longer doubt the efficacy of that old-fashioned root and herb medicine, Dr. E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, because it relieves the ailments to which they are afflicted. In almost every neighborhood there are lying warehouses of its wonderful effects. Therefore, if you doubt its value or power to help you, ask your neighbor. In nine times out of ten she has been benefited by its use or knows someone who has. It will pay you to give this root and herb medicine a trial.—Advertisement.

INGOT PRODUCTION 16,000,000 TONS IN FIRST HALF OF YEAR

As Compared With 10,000,000 Tons in Same Period Last Year; Mills Well Filled With Orders.

Special to The Weekly Courier.

NEW YORK, July 5.—The American Metal Market and Daily Iron and Steel Report will review the steel and iron trade tomorrow as follows:

Steel ingot production in the half year just ended was about 16,000,000 tons, against 10,000,000 tons in the second half of last year and 10,000,000 tons in the first half. With the present outlook prospects and trends production should be about 20,000,000 tons in the second half of this year. "The increase in production in the past half year is easily reconciled on the basis of there having been drastic liquidation of stocks of steel and of manufacture of steel in 1921, a partial restoration of stocks in the past few months, and a moderate increase in actual ultimate consumption. Consumption will have to increase to support the present production rate, and there is promise of this occurring, at least for the next two or three months, in the large quantities of steel made in the past few months and in some cases for sale, as well as in the freight car and structural orders that have lately been entered. Of nearly 100,000 freight cars ordered since January 1st only a relatively small number have not yet been built. The steel mill, in a matter of fact, is quite well filled with actual ship-ment orders, in most cases for the next two months and in some cases for longer periods.
